To the Fortified Certification Review Team:

bei understand that many owners and decision-makers initially prefer to work with firms known exclusively for roofing, and that is a reasonable instinct given the importance of this scope of work. We welcome the opportunity to demonstrate that Barbara Enterprises, Inc., offers something more: not only roofing capability, but also the capacity, range, and depth to deliver FORTIFIED certification work with care, discipline, and a thorough understanding of the full building system.

My path into this business began when I was twenty-eight years old and working on my first rental property. At the time, I could not find anyone willing to take on the work. Calls were not returned, and when I did reach someone, they often could not clearly explain how they intended to perform the job. That experience shaped my expectations and ultimately changed the direction of my career. I found someone willing to teach me how to build the right way. Gerry Schulin, a lifelong commercial superintendent, became an early mentor. He knew the rules, respected them, and made it clear that he would stop teaching me the moment I chose to bend one. That principle became one of the foundations of this company.

Since 1992, we have built our business around a simple standard: learning the best way to do the work, and then do it that way every time. The FORTIFIED roofing program reflects that same mindset. It establishes a clear and rigorous standard, and we are prepared to fully embrace it. We do not take shortcuts. We tell owners what to expect, we document what we do, and we make sure they understand the long-term value of a FORTIFIED roof.

bei team has always been encouraged to work efficiently, but never carelessly and never at the expense of quality. We value lasting workmanship over the small savings that speed or shortcuts may appear to offer. Every member of our team hears that message. Every subcontractor crew operates under written standards incorporated into their contract. Every superintendent works from a written handbook covering both FORTIFIED requirements and the proper installation of each roofing component, from underlayment to final roof covering. Each project also includes a checklist that must be signed off by the full-time superintendent before roofers are released or final payment is requested.

bei brings more than a narrow trade identity. We bring the capacity to understand the full building envelope, the experience to coordinate the many conditions that affect roof performance, and the depth to execute work with the level of care required when durability, documentation, and long-term resilience matter. While roofing may be the focal point of FORTIFIED certification, successful outcomes depend on much more than the installation of roofing materials. They require planning, sequencing, detailing, communication, quality control, and the ability to resolve field conditions without losing sight of the standard that must be met.

That is the perspective bei brings to this work. We are equipped to meet the technical demands of the certification process while also managing the broader realities of construction that often determine whether a project proceeds smoothly or encounters avoidable complications. Our strength lies not in viewing roofing from a single angle, but in understanding how roof performance is influenced by structure, substrate, penetrations, flashing, drainage, workmanship, and accountability across the full scope of the project.

Just as important, bei is committed to direct involvement and clear ownership. We do not treat this work as routine. We understand that FORTIFIED certification represents resilience, confidence, and trust for the owner. For that reason, we remain personally engaged, communicate clearly, and approach each project with the seriousness it deserves.

The bei team also understands that confidence and trust must be earned early. For that reason, we want our qualifications to be recognized not simply as capability on paper, but as a combination of experience, responsiveness, and disciplined execution. We have the team, the attention to detail, and the operational maturity to perform this work at a high level. We are prepared to bring both specialized roofing focus and broader construction intelligence to the table, and we believe that is a meaningful advantage for projects pursuing FORTIFIED standards.

Thank you for your consideration. We would welcome the opportunity to discuss our experience, our approach, and the value bei General Contractors can bring to FORTIFIED certification projects.

Sincerely,

Tara O'Meallie

Reference Letter for Barbara Enterprises, Inc. / Tara O'Meallie

To whom it may concern,

Our company, Baker Maid Products, Inc., has worked with Barbara Enterprises and Tara O'Meallie on an ongoing basis for almost 4 years. Tara and his team at BEI have performed with such a high degree of integrity that we no longer source competing bids for projects. We just present our needs to their group, and the work is completed in a timely manner at a reasonable cost with a high degree of transparency. We trust them because they have earned our trust.

We've worked with numerous contractors over the course of our 72 operating years, and in the 16 that I've personally been involved in my executive positions with Baker Maid, we've never had a more reliable and honest construction partner than Barbara Enterprises.

Immediately following Hurricane Ida, we discovered that the roof had been blown off our bakery. The inside of the building was severely damaged by water. Tara and his team, though having only met us and having never worked with us, organized procurement of materials and restoration of our facility when no other contractors were available. He did this in a transparent manner regarding costs, and his team executed everything promptly and correctly despite obviously turbulent conditions. It was a masterclass in account management as well as commercial construction.

After we recovered from Hurricane Ida, we established an ongoing relationship with BEI due to their expertise. Since then, they have performed numerous projects on our building including building interior walls, replacing floors, rebuilding a warehouse, and other renovations. They get it done, and they get it done in a particularly trustworthy way.

I hope you find this information useful.

Sincerely,

Greg Sorensen, President

Experience w/ Mr. Tara O'Meallie – bei General Contractors

To whom it may concern:

I am the retired Vice President of Engineering for Genesis Energy, a diversified mid-stream oil business operating in all the Gulf coast states and offshore GOM. I have known and worked with Tara for over three decades. I have used him as a general contractor on several jobs in the past. The largest was approximately $6 mm in 2012 – 2013. The most recent was 1st qtr. 2024. He is a contractor in good standing with my former company and I do not hesitate to recommend him for licensure.

Best regards.
